Preferred Citation: Type of document; names of sender and recipient, or title of document; date; White House Office of Records Management Subject Code and case number; box number; Collection Title and series/subseries, George W. Bush Presidential Library.

Administrative History: The White House Office of Records Management is responsible for the filing and retrieval of records created during the incumbent presidential administration. The use of a filing methodology for records created or received by the White House dates to at least the early years of the 20th century, and has undergone changes since that time to cope with the ever-expanding volume of paperwork handled by the President and his staff.

The White House Office of Records Management, or ORM (or WHORM) manages the office files of individual White House staff members, as well as administration records that are arranged by subject code and case file ID number according to their general subject matter.

Scope and Content Note: Correspondence, memoranda, reports, and other materials related to reports and statistics created or received in the White House Office of Records Management during the administration of George W. Bush. Material in this series was generated by the White House, Congress, various outside commissions and foundations. Notable materials in this series include the report from the U.S. Commission on International Religious Freedom, the report from the U.S. Commission on Oceans Policy, and a report on Energy Policy.

System of Arrangement: Material is arranged chronologically by case file number.
