Dear Minister Ohene,

Thank you for arranging such an inspiring event for the launch of the Africa Education Initiative Textbook Program. The setting, speakers and choral performance created a beautiful program.

Your commitment to strengthening education in Ghana is admirable, and I am happy that our nations are partners in this crucial mission.

I appreciate your warm greeting when I arrived and your kind introduction. I hope our paths cross again before long.

With best wishes,

Pamela Bridgewater, US Ambassador to Ghana.

(b)(6)

(b)(6) In spending time with Mrs. Bush, Ambassador Bridgewater shared all of the ideas she has to strengthen the relationship between the US and Ghana. She seems to work very hard at bridging any gaps between the US and the countries where she is assigned. Ambassador Bridgewater accompanied Mrs. Bush to the Accra Teacher Training College and to the Korle-Bu Treatment Center. Ambassador Bridgewater has a few other African Posts in the Foreign Service and she has been in Accra since October. Please thank her for her hospitality and for her great service as the US Ambassador.

The Honorable Elizabeth Akua Ohene, *Minister of State in Charge of Tertiary Education Minister Ohene greeted Mrs. Bush on arrival and served as the emcee of the program. Minister Ohene has overseen and played a large part in the partnership between Ghana and Chicago State University as part of the six African nations and six US Universities who have joined together in the Textbooks and Learning Program. Minister Ohene is working with the United States and the President’s Africa Education Initiative (AEI) to provide much needed learning resources and teacher training in Ghana. Please thank Minister Ohene for the inspiring event where Mrs. Bush launched the President’s (AEI) Textbook Material Program in Ghana and please commend her for her commitment and partnership with the US to strengthen education in Ghana.
