Biographical History: Todd Braunstein earned a Bachelor’s degree in Economics from Harvard University in 1997. In 2001, he graduated from Harvard School of Law. He began his professional career as a lawyer in the Washington, D.C. area.

Braunstein served as a Special Assistant to the President for Domestic Policy and as Associate Director for Justice from 2006 to July 2008. His areas of responsibility included: crime and gun control, immigration and border control, legal reform, civil rights, campaign finance, election reform, tobacco convention, Indian trust fund, prison reform, Project Safe Childhood, Freedom of Information Act, and drug control policy. He acted as the liaison between Domestic Policy Council and the Office of National Drug Control Policy.

After serving in the White House, Braunstein worked as an Assistant US Attorney in the Economic Crimes Unit of the US Attorney’s Office for the District of Massachusetts where he worked on cases related to drug trafficking and health insurance. In 2011, he joined the international law firm WilmerHale and serves as counsel in the Litigation/Controversy Department and a member of the Investigations and Criminal Litigation Practice Group.

Scope and Content Note: This series is divided into four subseries: Crime Files, General Files, Immigration Files, and Trafficking Files.

Crime Files consist of reports, memos, congressional testimony, bills, and other material related to Internet gambling, controlled substances, and prisons and prisoners. Congressional testimony and other prison related material highlighting conditions in Tribal prisons, prisoner work programs, re-entry into society preparation, and the prevention of terrorist cells and tax fraud within jail.

General Files contain correspondence, forms, reports, and printed material related to administrative work and other assorted materials related to domestic policy.

Immigration Files include reports, memos, legislation, emails, and comments regarding issues such as the temporary guest worker program, visas and green cards, illegal immigration, amnesty, and the Hagel-Martinez bill. The folders “Federalism EO” and “Federalism EO: Immigration” contain many emails from Michael P. Moreland, the Associate Director of Domestic Policy Council prior to Braunstein; it appears Braunstein may have inherited these files, and possibly others, from Moreland.

Trafficking Files consist of reports, memos, emails and related documentation regarding trafficking in persons.

System of Arrangement: Material is arranged alphabetically in four subseries: Crime Files, General Files, Immigration Files, and Trafficking Files.
