Scope and Content
The materials in FOIA 2014-0109-F[2] are a selective, not necessarily all inclusive, body of documents responsive to the topic of the FOIA. Researchers should consult the archivist about related materials.

Segment two of this FOIA primarily contains photographs of routine meetings with staff, cabinet members, and members of Congress; photo opportunities; phone calls to foreign leaders; and swearing-in ceremonies of staff and cabinet secretaries. Inauguration Day events from 2001 and 2009 are also depicted. Additional events from 2001 include portraits of President George W. Bush’s dogs Barney and Spot, a greeting with the presidential inaugural committee staff and transition staff, a White House open house and tour, an inaugural weekend brunch, a visit to the Washington National Cathedral and Lincoln Park United Methodist Church, a ceremony transmitting an education proposal to Congress, a visit to Merritt Elementary School and The Fisher School in Washington, D.C., remarks and the signing of Executive Order 13198 regarding faith-based and community initiatives, an address to the National Association of Wholesale Distributors, a meeting with Catholic charities, a portrait session with Mrs. Laura Bush, and decorators working in the Oval Office with Mrs. Bush. Events from 2009 include the presentation of the United States Mint's George W. Bush Second Term Medal, President George W. Bush and Former President George H.W. Bush participating in an interview with historian Richard Norton Smith, staff preparing the Oval Office and other White House rooms for the new administration, and President George W. Bush, Mrs. Laura Bush and daughters Barbara and Jenna with White House residence staff.

System of Arrangement
The materials in FOIA 2014-0109-F[2] are a systematic body of documents responsive to the topic of the FOIA. Researchers should consult an archivist about related materials.
