Subject: tort reform opportunity

the following article from the sunday new york times indicates the opportunity which is developing.
I had a good talk with Governor Rowland who will head the RGA about developing a nationwide effort to pass tort reform in every state both to stretch the trial lawyers so that they could not cover everything and also to educate the news media and the public by having many different people advocating similar reforms using similar language so the concepts would penetrate the society at large.

this is a remarkable moment of opportunity

Shot in the Arm for Tort Overhaul

It is all but certain that the G.O.P.'s election victories will move the call for tort reform, sought by the business world for years, higher on the legislative agenda.
