With sadness, I write to say farewell to the wonderful people with whom I have been fortunate to serve during my nearly two years at the U.S. Department of Justice. It has truly been an honor to work at the Civil Rights Division and at the Office of Legal Counsel.

Starting tomorrow, I will serve as Chief Counsel to the Senate Subcommittee on the Constitution, Civil Rights, and Property Rights, chaired by freshman U.S. Senator John Cornyn of Texas. I will be coordinating Judiciary Committee matters for the Senator.

Unfortunately, I do not yet have my new office contact information. I can at least confirm, however, that my home contact information and personal mobile phone number will not change and that my permanent e-mail address will remain [redacted] P6/b6 [redacted]. In addition, you should always be able to reach me at my new office through the main number of the Office of Senator John Cornyn at (202) 224-2934. Of course, I will be sure to send my new office contact information to the front office of the Office of Legal Counsel when it becomes available.

I hope very much that we will keep in touch. If I can ever be of service, please do not hesitate to contact me.

James C. Ho
